"The most valuable outcome from this activity wasn't the result. No, it was simply the fact that these students were willing to give of their own abilities, time and knowledge and give something back to society."

Season’s Greetings, Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year 2017!

The last ANL of the year 2016 provides recent videos, publications and news of the Amity Foundation. Amity’s international exchange department features a video of our overseas volunteers in China and the new Echo gives you all the information you need to participate in our 2017 programs.

Watch a video about Amity’s advocacy work for dementia patients and read a story how university students supported by Amity take action to help left-behind children.

Besides the recently published Annual Report 2015, the ANL provides you the latest Chinese Theological Review (CTR) 27, which presents translated Chinese church voices of 2016. Please also consider a donation to Amity so we can continue our work in 2017.
Videos

Mutual understanding, exchange and support is very important for Amity. Our international exchange programs foster the self-development of young people and help them to become ambassadors for peace. This video shows a portrait of Amity volunteers by a local TV station in Yumen, China.

Dementia, widely misunderstood, misdiagnosed or unknown by the general public becomes a severe problem in an aging Chinese society. The Amity Foundation advocates and raises awareness about the health condition. This video advocates for this cause.

Publications

The Amity Echo informs you about Amity's international exchange programs and gives you the best stories of the year 2016, as well as the coming dates and application procedures for the programs in 2017.

The Chinese Theological Review (CTR) 27 presents Chinese voices directly by providing translated theological essays, church statements, sermons, etc. for an English-language readership.
